Insurance:

The camp provides limited medical coverage for accidents and illnesses. Registered campers will receive complete information regarding our insurance plan.

Fees:

Camper tuition covers all activities including meals, lodging, laundry services, regular out-of-camp trips, instruction in all activities and camp supplies. Optional expenses include camp store purchases, and special weekend trips.

Cancellations/Refunds:

Cancellations must be received by fax, E-Mail, or U.S. mail by May 1, 2010. The first $200 of the deposit is non-refundable; the remaining deposit will be refunded after the summer season. There is no refund after May 1 for any reason other than illness or injury. In that case, the parents and the camp will split the total cost of the tuition refund. There is no refund for homesickness. If tuition is not received by March 15, 2010 (and a payment plan has not been arranged with the camp office), the camper's name may be removed from the registration and no deposit refund will be made.

Who May Apply?

We accept any well-behaved girl or boy, six to sixteen years old, from any nation. Those applying should recognize that we are a camp that includes Catholic and Protestant campers from all over the world, and that the Christian faith is shared through a balanced schedule of skill instruction, recreation, and brief devotions. We do not discriminate in our camper admission process due to race, sex, national origin, color, or religion. The camp does, however, reserve the right to refuse admittance to any individual whom the camp management deems an undesirable companion for other campers. (Please refer to the camper application for more information.)

A deposit of $200 per week of camping (per child) must accompany this application.

The first $200 is non-refundable, the remainder is returned if cancellation is received prior to May 1, 2010.

Camper spots may be available after the March 15 deadline. Please call camp office for availability.

Certification:

The Vineyard is committed to excellence in every manner. This comes as a result of professional leadership and conducting programs in a safe environment. At our camp, we meet or exceed every county, state, and federal guideline for camping. We are fully certified by the CCCA/USA and NCA. Our facilities are annually inspected by the state and local health officials (Sanitation Grade A).

The Vineyard is a non-profit (501 (c)3) corporation. We are an evangelical, inter-denominational ministry and have no associations with, or ties to any other ministries, including those bearing the name “Vineyard” (e.g. “Vineyard Music,” “Vineyard Churches”). Our purpose is to share God’s love with children and youth who join us. We hope that the activities and scheduled devotions will challenge all who attend to become followers and disciples of Jesus Christ. Campers of all faiths, nationalities, races, and denominations are encouraged to join us as we share in Christian worship and life.

POLICIES & PROCEDURES

Other Forms/Post Registration Procedures

After the camp office receives your application, you will be mailed the forms listed on this sheet. Opening day registration can be significantly hastened if these forms have been completely filled out and mailed back to the camp office before May 23.

1. Medical Forms. This must be completed by the family physician and must include a medical history of the child. During opening day registration, parents must make the camp nurse aware of any medical conditions that have arisen since the medical form was mailed to us. This form must be witnessed and signed by the parent.

2. Transportation Form. This should indicate the means of travel to and from the camp. Please give explicit information regarding time of arrival and dates. If your child is coming by plane, bus, or train, please call the camp office two days before arrival to confirm the airline, bus, or train information. Mail in this form as soon as you confirm your travel plans. (If by car, please mail in your form anyway!)

3. Activity Form. Please select the “Major” your child would like to take while at camp, and also include your second and third choices. This form lists the eleven majors along with special considerations and limitations. You will also see a list of the “electives.” Please make us aware of any elective you would not want your child to take, as well as electives you would have us encourage your child to take.

4. Store Form. Use this form to pre-order clothing, laundry bags, and other products from the store. Sizes can be adjusted on the opening day of the camp.

5. Confirmation Letter. This is our acknowledgement that we have received your application and deposit. This letter also indicates the balance still owed to the camp. Please note that this is the last correspondence you will receive from us unless there is confusion in your child’s registration or we were unable to honor the first choice of majors.

Tipping

We consider it inappropriate and unprofessional for a camp staff to accept a “tip” or gratuitous gift for serving a child. Please help us circumvent an awkward scenario by not offering any form of compensation to our staff. Should you feel strongly inclined to give something, please consider a gift to our scholarship or chapel fund.

Visits and Phone Calls

We understand that a camper’s time away from home can be more stressful on the parent than the child, and we therefore permit parents to visit or call the camp at any time. If you do visit, please call the camp office at least two days in advance, and, if possible, visit on Saturday or Sunday. You may speak to the counselor of your camper if needed or the boys or girls camp director. Please be aware that whereas your visit or phone call may help you, it may make your child’s experience at the camp more difficult and the transition more timely. We also permit campers to call home, but only after receiving permission from the camp director, and only after one of the directors has talked to the parent. Years of camping experience has taught us that encouraging letters, post cards and e-mails are far more beneficial to the camper than calls and visits. We know of no other camp anywhere that offers such an open and liberal policy towards parental contact with their child, but we recognize the parents’ rights and responsibilities to their child. Your visits and calls are not worrisome to us (provided they do not interfere with the rights of other campers) they represent an opportunity for us to minister to you and your family.

Extending Session

Campers frequently request to stay an extra week or more at the camp. If bed space is available, we are happy to accommodate them. If staying an extra week is not an option, kindly indicate this on the “confirmation” letter you will receive.

POLICIES & PROCEDURES

Behavior

All children are expected to behave and respond to those in authority in a manner that is consistent with the goals and ideals of The Vineyard. We do not tolerate negative attitudes and disruptive behavior—especially when such behavior takes away from the positive experience of other campers. We accept most children at our camp, but children unaccustomed to discipline and limits would not find our camp to their liking. Tobacco (in any form) alcohol, illegal drugs, profanity, and questionable remarks and gestures are simply not tolerated. We will send home campers who prove themselves to be undesirable companions to other campers (no refund will be made), and will refuse admittance to those campers whom we deem a risk to the safety, spirit, or smooth operation of the camp. Non-respect of our policies/rules by a camper may result in disciplinary action (e.g. muck stalls at the barn, pick up golf balls, not taking part of an activity, help during the meals...).

Clothing/Personal Property

The camp cannot assume any responsibility for any lost, damaged, or stolen property. Campers should not bring expensive clothing, jewelry, electronic games, or other non-essential items to the camp. The camp prohibits campers from bringing TV's, discmen, iPods, stereos, radios, guns, and sheath knives.

Dress Code

Parents are urged to assist their child in packing for camp—particularly teenagers! Dress here is very casual old jeans, old shorts of appropriate length, T-shirts, and old tennis shoes are fine. Girls should pack one piece bathing suits of modest taste. Shirts with vulgar graphics or profanity should not be packed. In addition, campers are not permitted to wear any “body piercing” jewelry or offensive paraphernalia. Females are permitted to wear modest pierced earrings but, once again, this is not the place for nice jewelry. Boys (and girls) are reminded to refrain from bringing shorts or pants that will not fit snugly around their waist.

Laundry Service

The camp provides laundry service free of charge one time per week for all campers. Campers should bring a laundry bag and should only pack clothes that are colorfast. We highly recommend that parents write their child's name in every piece of laundry they want returned to them. Campers should pack their own linen (two twin size sheets), a pillow, towels, light blanket, and lightweight sleeping bag.

Camp Store (“Wine Cellar”)

Parents are encouraged to leave at least $10 per week in their child's store account. We offer everything from drinks and snacks, to stationary, stamps, clothing, and souvenirs. All campers are required to purchase a pair of XiRho pants ($17) on opening day. At the conclusion of your child's stay at camp, the balance from their account will be refunded.
